This certificate is based on the information provided to Steve Matthews and Associates by St Luke's Combined Hospices. It is an independent opinion formed after a validation and analysis of their data and documents that were provided to determine the racial profile of the organisation's beneficiaries.

St Luke's Combined Hospices is a Non-Profit Organisation based in Cape Town. The organisation is devoted to the care of people of all races with cancer and end stage chronic diseases, ill health and those requiring rehabilitation as well as patients with multi-drug-resistant TB. On average 838 patients receive treatment each month. For the people receiving palliative care, 66% are from coloured and black communities. Whereas the Home Based Care and Lizo Nobanda TB facility are for patients from the black community. In addition, there are nine community hospices under the umbrella of St Luke's Combined Hospices that are supported by voluntary committees and community social workers.
